

An abstract painting by Mark Rothko titled 'The Eye'. The central focus is a large, stylized eye with a black and white striped iris. The eye is surrounded by swirling, organic shapes in shades of blue, purple, and brown. The background is a mix of these colors, creating a sense of movement and depth. The overall composition is dynamic and expressive, characteristic of Rothko's style.

????? ?? ??????: ?? ?? ? ? ??????
????? ?????? ?? ??????

27/13

.....